Proposal for Establishment of Child Rights through Non-formal Education

Background of the Project

Bangladesh has an area of 147570 square kilometers, and is inhabited by a population of 130.03 million². (Source: Bangladesh Population Census Report, 2001, Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics, BBS) There were about 78600 primary schools in the country up to the year of 2000. This number is increased about 80401 to the year of 2007³ (Source: Bangladesh Economic Review, 2008). At the same time about two third of the students were enrolled in government primary schools. Non-government institutions are particularly active in the delivery of primary education to the economically most disadvantaged children in Bangladesh. One of the largest non-government institutions involved in primary education in Bangladesh. Continuing education is the advanced stage as non-formal education it is taken that why the people made literate through non-formal channel and for that matter the people with low level of literacy achievement intends to improve on their literacy skill & continue to learn eventually throughout their life.

Many NGOs came up by 1990 the combined efforts of the NGO's have made a large number of people literate through non-formal education. Actually we have been implemented continuing education program till to date by own resource & other donors. So far the NGOs were busy to make literate as many children & people as possible through short courses of different duration. In the situation, we introduced what is known as continuing education, which eventually emerged as the life long education efforts. We earlier developed the curriculum for non-formal education in the country. Prepared reading material for non-formal education when the people make him literate day-to-day life & living people ultimately to the improvement of the social economic condition of the learners. Very large amount of people of Bangladesh are poor & illiterate. In fact illiteracy is the greatest curse of our country.

The poor Parents cannot afford to send their children for school. As the parents are illiterate they cannot help their children by given them even the knowledge of letters. An illiterate man cannot understand his good or bad. So his duties towards his children are not efficient or right. Under these circumstances, it has been essential for us to take proper steps for development of the children of our country. The effective steps may be in cause of awareness child education and their reality increase of skill increasing and income generating project.

Childhood is the golden period of life. If he makes a proper division of his time and performs his activities or duties accordingly, he is sure to improve and prosper in life. Whose are illiterate, they lose their mental strength & suffer from frustration due to the curse unemployment and chiding and ill treatment of the family members and the society and the result they take part in anti social activities bringing unrest in the society which is very much unfair for the society. To get rid of this it is very much necessary to take such a non-formal education program to determine the facilities available at the rural and uncultured areas. We strive to bring about positive change in the quality of life of the fallen children whose are dominated by extreme poverty, illiteracy, In these regard, establish poor parents child in community of slump and environment where they will be to live in places, justice, decision making and democratize value.

The fallen children are not getting social value in the society as they have had participation in the economic & productive activities, children workare not calculated in term of money, whereas most of the household activities are performed by them. Moreover, they target of social evils like torturing, social domination etc. The poor children are also the victim of above facts and suffering too much. These are happening, because, they are society unconscious, illiterate, no institution, solidarity, no skill and involvement in economic activities. So we have been trying to make the children conscious, skills, literate.
